Her strange little head was in a whirl As she rose from her knees to wander home, Leaving her basket at the shrine; So dazed was she, she scarcely knew The old familiar streets of Rome, Nor whither she wished to go, in fine; But wandered on, now crept, now flew, In the gathering twilight, till she came Breathless, bereft of sense and sight, To the gloomy Arch of Constantino, And there they found her, late that night, With her cheeks like snow and her lips like flame! Many a time from day to day, She heard, as if in a troubled dream, Footsteps around her, and some one saying-- Was it Filippo?-- Is she dead? Then it was some one near her praying, And she was drifting--drifting away From saints and martyrs in endless glory! She seemed...
